Raising Your Voice... Trying to Stop an Echo

You swore you'd never be them
You're just like them
You're just like them now
All the times you said you hate them
Just to hurt them
You're just like them
You're just like them now
Such a cold place that you live in
When you blame them
You're just like them
Still the stars shine down on your skin
Do you see them?
You're just like them now

...Like Starlight Into Day

You say your time is over
You seek but never find
And the cold wind on your shoulder
A storm inside your mind

You say you're tired of waiting
You're weak and so ashamed
And your faith is finally fading
Like starlight into day...
So you throw yourself away

No more time for waiting
So you throw yourself away
You threw yourself away
You threw yourself away

Shipwrecked (Flat on Your Back)

On a cold night
We lay down
Under starlight
We breakdown
Spend our whole life
Seeking shelter
Till the last time,
Gone forever...
